The book is 110 pages with plastic coated covers and metal spiral binding that opens flat on desk or worktable. The photos were selected to show both sides of each class of locomotives wherever possible.

The diagrams are in HO scale, and to preserve detail, erecting cards (shop drawings) have been reproduced in the largest possible size, 1:72 scale.

Lettering information on CNJ steam engines over the years is provided, as is a map of the railroad and a roster of steam motive power for December 1, 1945.

Tenders are shown for each class including additional information where available.

There is a complete table of engine restrictions indicating which engines could have worked on specific lines or branches of the railroad.
